

Zebra Managed Device Service

The ultimate in device uptime and management for Zebra mobile computers and printers

Your Zebra OneCare™ Maintenance Plan provides the standard in support services, covering virtually everything from the inside out of your devices — from accidental damage and technical support to software, firmware support and more. And while Zebra OneCare plans protect and increase the uptime of your Zebra devices, what if your crucial business operations demand more? What if you need full management of your devices from the experts who make them to give you the ultimate device uptime and assurance you need to run your business?

Now, you can let Zebra do it all with Zebra Managed Device Service. Your designated Zebra team of experts makes it their business to know your business and the role Zebra devices play in your day-to-day operations — and your overall business success. Your 'dream team' of Zebra experts will monitor every one of your devices, every day they are in service, helping spot and address issues before device performance and worker productivity are impacted. With Zebra in charge of device management, you can re-deploy IT staff to focus on more crucial IT initiatives, reducing staffing costs. The Zebra Managed Device Service solution architecture fits in virtually any technology environment, delivered via Zebra's Enterprise Mobility Management (EMM) solution. And three or five year service plans offer cost-effective monthly or annual billing, providing predictable costs that are easy to budget. Zebra Managed Device Service — fully managed worry-free device management from the experts who know your devices best.
